

SURPLUS GRAIN IS ELEVATOR PROPERTY

Judgment Delivered in Exchequer Court Likely to Be Appealed

Ottawa, June 26.—Under judgment delivered by Mr. Justice A. K. MacLean, in exchequer court yesterday, terminal elevator companies are entitled to surplus grains at stock-taking in the terminal elevators during August of each year.

The judgment held that sub-section seven, section ninety-five of the Canadian Grain Act be ultra vires of the federal parliament, in that it involved property and civil rights. The jurisdiction was therefore provincial.

The case in question was one in which the attorney-general of Canada brought actions against the Eastern Terminal Elevator company, Limited, which operates elevators at Port William and Port Arthur. The crown sought the delivery of a definite quantity of certain grains, being the surplus on hand in the elevators at the end of the year 1920, or as an alternative, the sum of $43,431.

The company claimed that the difference between what came into the elevator and that for which terminal warehouse receipts were issued must be attributable to grain recovered from dockage or screening and was earned by the elevator as payment in kind or in lieu of the tariff charges, and was, therefore, the property of the company.

"I am of the opinion, though not free from doubt," said Justice MacLean in giving his judgment, "that the contention made by defendant is well founded, and that the plaintiff is entitled to a deduction of any grain recovered from the balance of screenings, returns for which were made to the owners in cash payments."

It is probable that the case will be carried to the privy council.

HOW DANIEL WEBSTER GOT HIS FEE

As a lawyer, it is said that Daniel Webster never lost a single case in the courts during his whole life. The secret of all these legal victories was in the fact of his thorough preparation for each and every suit, regardless of its nature or importance. Webster would prepare just as thoroughly for a small case as he would for one to be argued before the Supreme Court of the United States. On one occasion he was employed as attorney in a somewhat unimportant case in one of the lower courts, but soon discovered that the suit involved some technical questions, and on the whole was extremely complicated. In order that he might fully inform himself on all the questions involved, he spent several days in the big libraries of Boston and even journeyed to Philadelphia for information. Of course, he won the suit, but the fee received didn't even pay his travelling expenses while studying the case.

A few months afterward he was passing through Philadelphia. An old friend of his rushed up to him, and in an excited tone, said, "Daniel, I want you to come to the court house immediately. I learned you were coming through here and I've been waiting for you. I have a big case here in court and I want you for my attorney."

Webster went, and to his surprise the case was identically like the one in which the fee was so small. But because he had fully prepared himself in the smaller case he was prepared for this one. Being already acquainted with all the principles involved, he proceeded at once, argued the case, won it, and received for his fee two thousand, five hundred dollars.

How dear to my heart is the face of the dollar
When some kind subscriber presents it to view,
It may come today, or it may come tomorrow;
It may come from others, it may come from you.
The big silver dollar, the round silver dollar,
Dear, delinquent subscriber, present it to view.

How ardent I'd seize it, that lovely round dollar—
"The root of all evil," 'tis commonly named.
Loving money is sinful, some good people will tell us,
But penitence printers can hardly be blamed.

The penitence printer, the hard-working printer,
Keeps sending out papers to interest you.
So hand in your dollar, the big, handy dollar,
Dear reader, now will you present it to view.

EXCELLENT PAPER MADE FROM WESTERN STRAW

Samples Produced by Swedish Process Show Great Possibilities

Tests made by the forest products laboratories of the forestry branch of the department of the interior, Ottawa, show that an excellent grade of paper can be made from western wheat and barley straw.

Howard Stutchbury, trade commissioner for Alberta, has exhibited samples of kraft paper which had been produced in an experimental way at the Montreal laboratories of the forestry branch and the report covering the experiments in satisfactory. The Blanche, Wilg, a Swedish process, was used in producing the samples. Mr. Stutchbury has, and the report states that, "there seems no reason to believe that any operating difficulty would be encountered in adapting it to commercial operation."

The report, which is a preliminary one, and which is prepared by E. P. Cameron of the pulp and paper division, Ottawa, adds: "From the writer's general knowledge of the operating costs of newspaper mills in Eastern Canada and of the conditions under which a well situated and equipped straw paper mill would probably operate in Western Canada, it is his opinion that straw newspaper could be produced by such a plant at a somewhat lower cost than that being produced by the newspaper mills in Eastern Canada from coniferous woods."

There will be further experiments on a larger scale, and Mr. Stutchbury is very hopeful that there is here the germ of what will prove of untold value to the whole of the prairies.

SALVAGE WORK DIFFICULT

There are now only 154 bars of gold worth $1,200,000 on the wreck of the Laurentic, which was sunk during the war, and the salvage ship Racer will shortly endeavor to recover this, said Commander G. C. C. Dams in the course of a lecture at the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, London. Four boxes of gold weighing 140 pounds each were recovered in such short time when the wreck started that it seemed as if operations would be finished in a week. A fierce gale sprang up, however, and the wreck collapsed, making salvage work very difficult. Of the 3,211 bars which went down with the ship, 3,057 have been recovered during operations extending over six summers at a cost of two and one-half percent.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

From The News, June 30, 1909.
An Oddsmen's Association was formed in the city, all persons here by 1893 being eligible. The charter members were Jas. Baile, B. N. Baile, J. M. Wilson, Capt. Cottingham, J. J. Gies, B. P. Alford, Thos. Ferguson, T. A. Gies, W. Beckley and J. A. Carwell.

Mrs. A. El. Trimble died at the Hospital after two serious operations. A big Dominion Day celebration was advertised. Features were a marathon race, baseball, lacrosse, football, trap-shooting and all kinds of races.

Editorially, The News congratulated Mayor Botterill and the Council on the tax rate set, and stated that a great deal of the credit was due to A. T. Stephenson because of his grasp of municipal problems.

Henry Whiteside, Fenhold, succumbed to a stroke of paralysis. He was 71 years of age.

TEN YEARS AGO

From The News, July 1, 1914.
Citizens were selling their tickets entitling them to a place in the line up for filing on lands at a good price. The rush was due to the oil strike West of Olds.

Red Deer Squadron of the Central Alberta Horse returned from summer camp at Calgary.

J. D. Armstrong was killed in a bus disaster at Hinton mines. The City Council voted $200.00 towards the relief funds.

Red Deer trimmed Innisfail 10-3 in baseball.

Several oil companies were selling shares, including the Central Alberta Oil, Ltd.—a Red Deer company.

THE MILITARY SCHOOL— MAKER OF MEN

To-day education is recognized as something more than dates and facts. It has to do less with superficial pouring out of information upon youth, and more to do with fundamental molding and building of character.

The ancient Greeks were wise in this matter of boy-rearing. The greatest civilization the world has ever known was attained by a system of education under which every boy for at least two years of his life was given a course practically identical with that given by our best military schools today. Through this training he acquired the disciplined will, the power of endurance, the sturdy physique and the moral qualities of loyalty, responsibility, devotion to duty that become the citizen no less than the soldier.

Modern military schools recognize the value of these qualities. Their plan is designed to inspire and develop them. Academic work is more successful when carried on in the atmosphere of thoroughness, fidelity to duty and promptitude of the military school. Studies are made more effective by the proper physical training and robust health that come with military training.

In a military school a boy learns to be as thorough in the classroom as on the field. He is held to a high standard of accomplishment. Lessons are done with the same precision and orderliness that obtain on parades and in quarters. The invaluable habit of finishing what he has begun operates everywhere.

Although describing himself as an "incurable pacifist," Dr. Frank Crane, the well-known author, recently said, "There should be military training for every boy in the Canadian Empire." The Association of Military Colleges and Schools has as its members preparatory schools that give full and adequate preparation for college. They also meet certain Government requirements in equipment and standards of military work and have one or more army officers detailed to them as instructors. These schools cordially invite your most careful investigation.

HOW THE ENGLISH MAKE TOFFEE

Old-Fashioned Candies Are Best For the Young Folk

Speaking of children, was there ever a child who didn't like toffee? If more of these old-fashioned candies were made at home there would be fewer cases of spotted stomachs in our households and the young men and women who take tablets for "indigestion."

The best toffee is made in this manner: Mix four cups of brown sugar and half a cup of corn syrup with half a cup of water, and put on the fire, stirring carefully until all the sugar is dissolved. Let this come to a boil and then take off the fire and add four tablespoons of butter. Put the mixture back on the stove once more and boil until the butter has penetrated throughout the candy. Pour onto a greased enamelled ware tray of any kind and, as the candy cools, mark it into squares. When it has hardened break these apart and wrap each piece separately in wax paper. accidentally, you will find the hardest "cleaning up" is a great deal less if you have used an enamelled ware tray for the cooking. For the sake of the stickiest mixtures do not adhere long to its porcelain-like surface.

EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Calgary, June 26th.
Cattle—Calgary prices holding fairly steady, with choice heavy steers $5.75 to $6.25, and export quality making $7 with a 3 percent shrink. Choice old-fashioned ends were made at home there would be fewer cases of spotted stomachs in our households and the young men and women who take tablets for "indigestion."

Butterfat—Alberta prices are now on a uniform quotation of 30c, 28c, 26c and 24c, at centralisers, and 2c off at country creameries; production is approaching the peak now. Creamery butter—Carlton and prints are unchanged; car lot prices will be around 31c, Alberta prints, basis specials; Vancouver not buying much yet; Montreal keeping up well. Dairy Butter—Markets are buying fancy grades of table at 22c to 25c; dealers quoting straight receipts firmer, at 18c to 18c. Cheese—Prices unchanged and market rather quiet.
Eggs—Poultry—
Eggs—Calgary dealers quoting advance with extras 19c, No. 1 17c, No. 2 13c, cracks 9c. Edmonton on basis of 20c for extras. Poultry—Some fowl moving, but prices lower with heavy hens, live, at 13c; light, 11c, broilers, 9c to 25c.
Hay—
Cutting first crop of alfalfa started in some districts. Very little business reported by dealers. Prospects of good crop in most of province are encouraging.
Potatoes—
Trading quiet and only local demand to take care of; 18c is good price for early deliveries, other grades down to 14c.
Furs—
Prices unchanged and market getting into summer dullness.
Butterfat—Butter—Cheese—

common, $1 to $1.75. Calves unchanged, veal $3 to $5.50; common heavy, $3 to $3.50. Feeders, Stockers—Quality still selling steady at $3 to $4; stocker steers, $2.50 to $3.50; stocker heifers, $2 to $2.50; stocker cows, $1.50 to $2.50.
Hogs—
Hogs—Firm at Calgary during the week at $6.75, thick, smooth, off cars, bacon 10 percent premium; today's sales at $6.75 to $6.90.
Edmonton market showing firmness and sales during the latter part of the week at $6.55 to $7, off cars, thick smooth; bacon 10 percent premium.
Sheep—
Calgary had a few sheep in the lambs making $13; no movement of any volume yet.
Nominal prices quoted at Edmonton owing to light receipts, choice lambs probably around $12.50; yearlings $10 and ewes, fat, $7.
Grains—
Markets have been good during the most of the week, and in view of the favorable crop conditions which are reported over a very large proportion of Alberta, there is every reason for the farmers to feel satisfied. Over a lot of the province it will be a good crop, and some of it very good, according to present prospects. Rain is needed in some of the districts south of the province, and on the southward part of Edmonton and on the southward for some little distance.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

London, June 26.—A quarter of a million elderly persons in Great Britain will benefit as a result of the extension of the old age pension scheme which has received the approval of the House of Commons.
Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, when introducing the necessary financial resolution today, said single persons having an income, not necessarily earned, of 25 shillings weekly will be entitled to 15s pension weekly, and married couples whose income is 50s weekly will be entitled to one pound sterling weekly. The cost of the additional scheme will be £4,000,000 in the first year, but will rise to £7,000,000.
The proposals, said the minister, in pension could be regarded as a final settlement of the problem of old age pensions. He hoped shortly to submit a scheme of mothers' and widows' pensions and reduce the age limit to 65.

HISTORY OF PENHOLD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

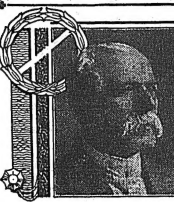

(By Mrs. H. R. McDougall)

Before giving the history of this Presbyterian church of Penhold upon its 22nd anniversary, I would like to thank Messrs. Lyness and Quantz, and Messrs. McKenzie and Martin for valuable information pertaining to the events I am about to narrate, for, as most of you are aware, all papers, such as records and data that would have been helpful and accurate, were burned when the old manse was destroyed by fire in 1905, while Rev. Simpson was in charge of the ministry at this place, so that memory is our only guide, and I find that certain characteristics of peoples make more lasting impressions on my mind than do names or dates. However, if at any time I am at fault in either understanding they are given subject to correction and will afford an opportunity for wholesome discussion during our social hour following this programme.

Now, with your permission, I am going back a little further into the history of the church than the exact date of the building and construction, same, as by church we mean not the building, but the people who, forming a community, are desirous of maintaining services pertaining to the gospel of Jesus Christ. Before the building of the C. & E. railway in 1891, our first settlers, who had come in by freighting in wagons, desired worship, and after the building of the old schoolhouse (now used as the Odd-fellows hall) in 1890, that desire was fulfilled when the Rev. Buchanan, an elderly man, coming down from Red Deer, held services in the schoolhouse on Sunday afternoons. Then followed Mr. Croxford in 1892-93, coming from Innisfail.

Upon arrival in the place where Penhold now stands, then only boasting three buildings, namely, the schoolhouse, and the old Taylor house, now standing next the church and used as a granary by Leo Bros., and the Geo. Fleming home, where J. M. Harte now resides, in 1894, naturally a lonely feeling swept over me, not seeing a church edifice, coming from a land where churches and schools flourished everywhere. On the site now owned by the Misses Eyre, a few years afterwards bought for the manse, I held my first service, and the family were away visiting his church people, took fire and burned to the ground. The first Sabbath, October 15, 1894, to be exact, upon which I attended church in Penhold, the pulpit was filled by a tall dark-complexioned young student, Mr. Dobbins by name, whom I remember as a forcible and earnest speaker, riding on horseback to three different places each Sunday when a handful of people gathered from scattered distances. Amongst those present that afternoon, I still see at church in the present day the Quantz's, the Thos. Field family, and Mrs. Lyness (then newly married), the Johnston family (though many of the older ones have passed away), and others. Though not all of the Presbyterian faith, the whole countryside at-

Crimean Veteran Praises "Fruit-a-tives"

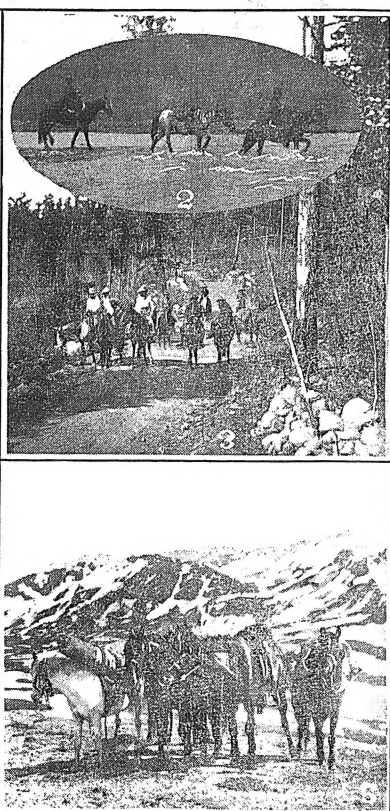

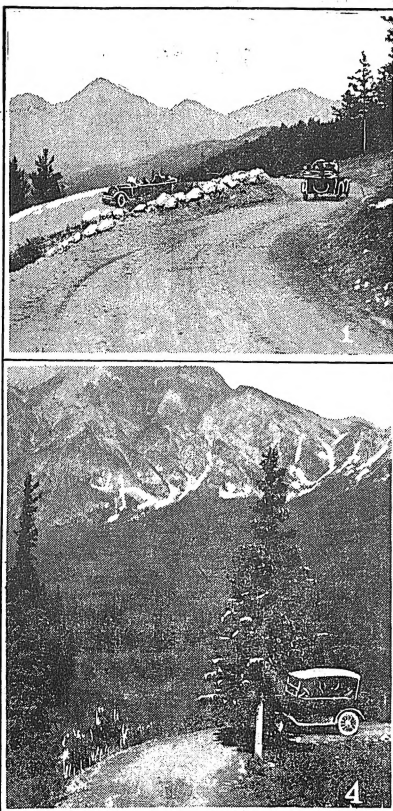

Major George Walker, now a familiar figure in Chatham, Ontario, is one of the men who went through the terrible Indian Mutiny. As he says: "I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, served under Lord Roberts. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting and continual exposure left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I was in terrible shape until I began to use 'Fruit-a-tives.' They relieved me both of the Rheumatism and the Constipation. Today, I enjoy perfect health—no more Rheumatism or Constipation."

Had in another letter, written December 1st, 1923 (eleven years after), Major Walker says: "Fruit-a-tives are the best medicine I have ever used. They will keep you well. 25c and 50c—at all dealers of Fruit-a-tives—Limited, Ottawa, Ont."

Following Mr. Dobbins, a Mr. Short followed in turn by Mr. Spear, an orthodox minister located in Innisfail, who officiated at the marriage of Miss Calhoun to Mr. Jas. Johnston in 1896—the first couple in our district to be married since our arrival. Then followed more students—Mr. Donnell in 1897, Mr. Dide in 1898, Mr. Taylor in 1899, and Mr. Wright in 1900, home missionaries. I would like to tell you something of each: how these young boys came from good homes in the East to rough it out in the West, stopping around from place to place, riding wild broncos, and always having a few dollars in their pockets, but no money at all. They were delighted in selling or loaning these outlaws to the "tenderloins," and how more than one of these students were able to hold their own in the West, and how they forsook the Red Deer river to visit us in the East. Mr. Wright, who was nevertheless, attended services here until such time as the log church in Ridgewood was built in 1901. Simpson then had to remain a week or two to the sudden rising of the river; how they made themselves useful in various ways, such as building, butchering, or whatever came to hand. Poor Mr. Dide had a weakness for stray dogs and always had a few puppies in his house. His own life ended shortly after leaving here. But I must not stray, and time forbids my dwelling at any length on different individuals who helped make the church. Mr. Atkinson was the next incumbent, coming up from Innisfail. Then followed Mr. Chalmers in the latter part of 1900, continuing during 1901-02. Meanwhile, the Methodist church (now used as an implement house) had been built in 1901 and services were held there in the mornings by a Methodist minister, and in the evenings by the Presbyterians. At this time the field embraced Hill End, Antler Hill and Newview, beside Penhold. Later it was disorganized and Ridgewood, Penhold and Markerville made the stations. Then, as now, Presbyterians wished to have a church of their own, so Mr. Chalmers, of Bowden, undertook this venture. A lot was donated by Mr. Geo. Fleming, and the manse called a public meeting at Mr. Wm. Inglis' home, where he was stopping, to consider the advisability of building a Presbyterian church, at which meeting only one boomed himself and Mr. Inglis, was present—Mr. A. D. McKenzie. However, nothing daunted, Mr. Chalmers started a subscription fund among the people, which met with noble response. Notably amongst those who first contributed being Messrs. Wm. Inglis, Wm. McDonald, Jas. White, A. Shields, D. McIvor, Geo. Martin, Sr., E. McAllister, Thos. Field, D. Bethune, A. D. McKenzie, Mr. Archibald, and others, and by borrowing from the church building fund, the structure was built where now standing in 1902. Mr. Robt. Leithhead built the foundation, with some voluntary work such as mixing mortar, in which Mr. G. Martin, Jr., helped, there being no ceremony upon the laying of the corner stone. Mr. D. McIvor was given the contract of building. Mr. Martin, Sr., the contract to furnish the pews from Graham's of Edwell, and so well was this done and the varnish and shells so freely applied that we were unable to rise after our first seating without trying to take the seats with us—Mr. Martin, it seems, was determined to keep in their places all who came to this church; even up to the present, on warm days, the pews have his falling. The Rev. Mr. Herdman, of Calgary, Superintendent of Alberta Missions, formally opened the church in 1903, and although named as such, Mr. Chalmers, of Scotland, our Mr. Chalmers, who was so faithful and untiring in his efforts to build this church, was probably the deciding factor in choosing its name, "Chalmers Presbyterian Church of Penhold."

Mr. Mitchell, a returned missionary, labored here for a short time in 1903 and 1904, following Mr. Chalmers, and also endeavored him to at all times followed Rev. Ross. Those who knew not Mr. Ross missed a great friendship. A keen advocate of sports, he was always present and played baseball with the boys; an adviser, friend and helper to them in every way. Meanwhile services were also held every Sunday in the Methodist church. Foremost to my mind appears a Detroit, West, from England, who lived with the Archie Fead family now reside. Mr. West and his family were noted musicians; also Mr. Bailey, minister of great personality, a Methodist, who also preached in Ridgewood near this time. Now, as to the church for our church must be purchased, so Mr. Ross, Mr. McIvor and Mr. Martin, Sr., signed a note to the Red Deer Mutual Co. for same, which was finally redeemed by the Ladies' Aid of which Society Mrs. R. A. Johnston, now of Calgary, secured special mention for her unselfish attitude and untiring zeal, was the President at the time) in 1906, at which date "Little" Mr. Simpson, as he was designated, took charge of the ministry here and the log-house, afterwards purchased for the manse for him and his bride. He held the pastorate for several years, during the last of his home by fire in 1909. Contributions were taken up and he built a new house, but due to illness, he was unable to keep as a manse, he sold privately and left for the East where, I believe, he is in the ministry in Ontario. Mr. Simpson was a gentle and unassuming man, with a charming wife who often delighted us with her singing of songs in the church. His resignation by Rev. McKay, who brought a barrel full of sermons along, but did not stay long enough to use them all, then Mr. Fuller succeeded him, and was a bright and energetic speaker and a good singer. Then in 1911 and 1912 we had Rev. Mr. Gossling, and the territory, as aforesaid, was divided and altered somewhat. At this time the Rev. Mr. Ross, of Innisfail, purchased with us this evening, was the Moderator, and always then on my advised and helped us in all our difficulties. BY MOTOR AND PACK HORSE THROUGH CLOUD WONDERLAND

FOR the man or woman in search of healthful recreation, rest for jaded nerves, and a thoroughly enjoyable holiday, the world offers nothing more entrancing than a holiday in Jasper National Park, Canada's wonderland of scenery, where mountain, crag and torrent vie with one another in claiming the attention and where scenic nature is at her best. Towering peaks rise to the north, south, east and west; mirrored in the beauty of placid lakes whose shores provide shelter for the myriad wild life for which the largest of all Canada's national parks is famous.

Whether the tourist goes sight-seeing by motor car or by the more romantic pack pony, Jasper National Park offers him the best that can be found anywhere. Motor roads and pack trails radiate in every direction from Jasper

Park Lodge, the magnificent log cabin hotel of the Canadian National Railways, and the tourists may engage either ponies and guides or an automobile and thus see the mountains at his pleasure. Mount Edith Cavell, named to honor the memory of Britain's heroic nurse, rises by the side of Mount Sorrow, within a short drive of the Lodge and is one of the favorite drives of visitors to the Lodge. The Cavell highway, a smooth-surfaced, winds up toward the very foot of the Ghost Glacier, presenting to the visitor a new vista of scenic wonders at every turn. As one rides toward the foot of the glacier, the Athabasca Valley far beneath presents an attractive picture of calm loveliness, while here and there a lake, reflecting blue sky and sunshine, adds its touch to the beauty of the landscape. There are other drives which may be taken in comfort—one may go in an hour, for instance, to the wonderful Maligne Canyon, one of the natural wonders of the entire Rocky Mountain region, where rushing waters go tumbling and boiling through a narrow aperture worn in the rock, two hundred feet below the feet of the tourist as he or she stands on one of the foothills which span its narrow width. At any turn of the road the visitor may find himself face to face with a bear or a deer, walking calmly across the highway, while on the sides of the mountains he may see mountain sheep or goats grazing. The tourist to whom riding appeals will find plenty to hold his attention. Pack trails may be followed for miles, when in the company of an efficient guide, one may set forth to explore regions which are beyond the reach of the motor tourist. The wondrous Maligne Lake and Medicine Lake, with their

ROTARY INTERNATIONAL

Wonderful Success of Annual Convention in Toronto

J. A. Carswell gave a short address at the Rotary Club, on the great Convention of Rotary International held at Toronto on June 16th to 20th, which he attended while in the east.

Before he spoke of Rotary matters, he remarked that Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario were all as late as Alberta, and that the weather was still in use in the houses in Ontario when he arrived there. The spring had been backward and cold, although nice weather prevailed from the fifth or sixth of June. He also said that Red Deer seemed as prosperous as any place he visited outside of the cities. He said it has now been conceded that the Convention was the greatest ever held by Rotary International and was a big feather in the cap of Toronto, where hundreds of Rotarians worked like makers for months to make it a success, and they succeeded beyond their greatest expectations.

Ten thousand Rotarians gathered from every part of the civilized world came to Toronto to enjoy themselves.

The streets of the city were bright with flags and bunting, and every store-keeper, and even the car conductors, police, draymen and other citizens, greeted us with a welcome and a smile.

Out at Exhibition Park thousands thronged the buildings and grounds, making a unique city bustling with life and energy.

Every available hotel room and hundreds of residences and homes were filled with visitors, and even four large vessels were used as floating residences for the visitors on the water, and both at the exhibition grounds and down town hundreds more were accommodated in sleeping cars.

While the largest part of the delegates came from the United States and Canada, there were more than 100 official representatives from the Rotary Clubs of Great Britain. In many nations of the British Empire was represented with the exception of India.

Emphasizing the international character of Rotary is the fact that delegates were present from clubs in France, Spain, Italy, Denmark, Norway, Cuba, Mexico, Panama, Porto Rico, Uruguay, Peru, New Zealand, Australia, China, Japan, Philippines and Hawaii. In point of membership the British Empire takes second place to the United States, with more than 15,000 Rotarians organized in about 250 clubs throughout the Empire.

Monday was Assembly and Registration day, no business sessions being held, but great crowds of enthusiastic Rotarians by two other ships from the Eastern States, and trainload after trainload pulled in at the Union Station. Four hundred and more delegates almost every hour of the day, and hundreds of auto loads arrived by nightfall there was nearly a complete attendance of delegates on hand. On our tour out hundreds of delegates were taken in the motor cars of the Toronto Rotarians, each delegate receiving instructions as to where to go, without delay. Equal agency was displayed at the Exhibition Grounds, where we were taken in the motor cars of the Toronto Rotarians, each delegate receiving instructions as to where to go, without delay. Locals Beat Ponoka by Odd Goal

The soccer team of the Ponoka Mental Hospital, which defeated the local team by 3-1 in the recent game at Ponoka, came down for the return match on Thursday last, and after a strenuous game were obliged to return home without any more points to add to their total, the game ending 2-4 for Red Deer.

The game was very even, especially in the second half, when no goals were scored. Red Deer's goals were both earned, and gave the goalkeeper little chance. Ponoka should not have got their goal, as the local backs were very slow in clearing, but they deserved one goal in the second half, in the dying moments of the game. Evan Galbraith made a spectacular save right in the goal mouth and off the feet of two Ponoka forwards.

Harold Haste was unable to play on account of a sprained leg, but the home team were fortunate enough to get Fred Castle out, and he was very steady on defence. The local halves played a much improved game over any appearance to date and their improvement accounted for the win. After the game the visiting team were given a small entertainment at the Commercial Cafe.

The teams lined up as follows:

Red Deer	Position	Ponoka
Red Deer	Goal	Wiltshire
Galbraith	Backs	Haynes
Carroll	Backs	McWilliams
Castle	Backs	White
Kitching	Half-backs	Buchanan
Red Deer	Forwards	Parsons
Cunningham	Forwards	Bragg
Stewart	Forwards	Thorne
Weld	Forwards	Walton
Nicholson	Forwards	Simmons
L. Reed	Forwards	Harry Cotton

Harry Cotton handled the whistle very acceptably, although he perhaps allowed the players on both sides a little too much leeway at times.
